Homily for January 29, 2017

Dear People of St. Thomas More,

You're lucky—my sermon is only a page. Jesus' Sermon on the Mount is 2 1/2 pages printed!

We hear the Beatitudes-10 verses, and mistakenly think that is it—but it isn't. Jesus has a starting point the 10 Commandments. Matthew, the Jewish Christian Gospel, has Jesus go up a mountain like Moses, who received the 10 Commandments on a mountain, Sinai. Jesus is the new Moses, so for His disciples, His expanded morality is demanded. Jesus is calling for a greater morality than the 10 Commandments, yet in a way based on them.

The first beatitude is "Blessed are the poor in spirit". Luke's version is Blessed are the poor, period. Matthew is taking a more developed stance. The Blessed are the poor in spirit echoes not only the minor prophet Zephaniah you heard earlier, but also Isaiah and would include Job, the rich man who lost everything—anyone who is broken-hearted. The point is almost repeated by the 3rd Beatitude: "Blessed are the meek, they shall inherit the earth." There is something we non-Jewish people need to understand—the non poor in spirit, the non meek—in the prophets and history have a long history of not listening—the proud, the arrogant, are the ones who are going to be the unblessed. And Jesus now elaborates.

Only the humble—poor in spirit, are capable of understanding the Sermon on the Mountain. They are going to be the Light of the world, the Salt of the earth. The humble who not only don't kill but don't in anger call their fellow "fool"- "worthless" or worse. They won't be hauled into God's court...those who don't swear—seen any movies recently?-those who don't string a line of oaths together in anger....These are people who forgive, who don't retaliate. Contrast this idea with the arrogant Lamech, (Genesis 4:23-24), a symbol of evil. Have you not heard someone say: "I don't get mad. I get even." Jesus said, "Love your enemies. Pray for those who persecute you."

The poor in spirit--meek, will honor marriage, not only not commit adultery, but won't even entertain such thoughts.

Jesus talks about Almsgiving and prayer and again He touches on the contrast between the meek/humble and the proud—give alms in secret so the right hand doesn't know what the left hand is doing—pretty secret...he follows with prayer—His disciples don't make spectacles of themselves like the pagans—think here proud, arrogant. The poor in spirit, the humble, know God as Father-Our Father.

Fasting was important because the idea was that red meat encouraged passion—think lust, rage. Maybe we ought to think of fasting as fasting not only from eating too much, but also staying away from the things that feed our temptations.

Jesus says true disciples don't judge others—think 8th commandment. It is not enough not to bear false witness—but we must not judge others. Here Jesus is talking about gossip and the first Christians suffered from this—they lost homes, lives—and it started with whispered slander—you know the comments made behind people's backs.

Jesus ties all His remarks together with some images—the Golden Rule: "Do unto others what you would have them do unto you." and "Enter the narrow gate." We can cultivate such sins that won't let us enter through Jesus' narrow gate—His greater morality.

Finally, He uses the image of a house's foundation—we need to build on a rock—remember, God is often referred to as a rock (Genesis 49:24, Ps. 18:2, Ps. 19:5, to name a few) The poor in spirit, the meek, trust in God, and build on Jesus' teaching.

In the Sermon on the Mountain, it is actions that count, not just saying Lord, Lord. (Mt 7:21)

Today, work on getting through the narrow gate; work on being poor in spirit, doing unto others what you want done to yourself.

May God Bless.

Father Mark

Jesus said, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." Matt. 4:19

St Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church and Marian University will host the Most Reverend Edward Braxton, Ph. D., S.T.D., the African-American Bishop of Belleville, Illinois on Saturday, February 18 and 19, 2017, to discuss The Racial Divide in our country and in our churches.

Bishop Braxton is a respected author of several books, e.g., The Wisdom Community (1980) and The Faith Community (1990) and important pastoral letters, e.g., "The Catholic Church and the Black Lives Matters Movement" (February 26, 2016) and "The Racial Divide in the United States: A Reflection for the World Day of Peace" (January 1, 2015). His letters are balanced and compassionate and have been written from the perspective of a man who cares deeply about the racial divide within our country and our churches. They have been read and discussed by a wide community of pastors, scholars and ordinary people throughout the country.

Please mark your calendars for these events during Black History Month. Bishop Braxton will speak at St. Thomas Aquinas on Saturday, February 18 at 8:00 PM, preside at the 10:30 AM Sunday liturgy here on Sunday, February 19, and speak again at Marian University on Sunday, February 19 at 2:30 PM. His talk at Marian will be at the College of Osteopathic Medicine Lecture Hall 150.

All events are open to the public and we have invited many of the leaders of our church and civic communities.

PICTORIAL DIRECTORY

We Need Your Photos!

We are looking for church related photos to include in the up coming 2017 parish directory, especially photos from the 60's, 70's, 80's and 90's.

Photos we are looking for include:

- Photos from when the church was under construction in 1967
- Early days of the church including events and charter members
- Past Applefest photos, especially the first few
- Photos of past events (international dinner, pet mass, march for life, etc.)
- Photos of Cardinal Tobin's visit to St. Thomas More in 2016
- Youth activities (bible school, first communion, confirmation, etc.)
- Photos of past priests, especially the ones from the 60's through the 90's.

There are several ways to get your photos to us:

- Email to davidrbex@hotmail.com or info@stm-church.org
- Upload using file sharing service like Dropbox
- Give to Maureen Shea, Peggy Weber or David Bex
- Save to a CD or flash drive and leave at parish office
- Lend us from a photo album to scan and return

All physical photos, CDs, flash drives will be returned undamaged. Please include your name and contact information with all submitted materials so they can be safely returned. If possible, also include a description of the photos and note the people in them.

Thank you.
